'Field of Dreams' (detail)
Oil painting by Holly Van Hart

. . . try your hand at a community-created oil painting. Bring friends and family! While adults walk around the art exhibit, the younger ones can keep busy with a children's art project.

Dozens of new paintings will be on display, including landscapes, nature paintings, and abstracts. See what they look like up close and in person. (It's a much different experience than viewing images online.) New editions of prints and notecards will also be available. Studio tours will be held throughout the day. Learn about the oil painting process, from conception to completion.

Please mark your calendar . . . May 16 and 17, 11am - 5pm, my studio in Saratoga. Additional details here.

I'd be honored if you joined me at one or both events.

See you soon!

Holly

P.S. If you're not available for these events, or just want to see the art before everyone else, email me at holly@hollyvanhart.com and let's make a date.
