

Hi Fellow art lover,.

Sometimes our dreams are so close we can almost touch them -

'Outside My Window' (detail) by Holly Van Hart

And sometimes we need to climb a ladder or a tree (or learn to fly) to reach our dreams. In any case, it's worth the stretch!!! That's what I had in mind while painting the magnolia flowers and branches and nest in 'Outside My Window'.

This painting and about 16 others will be part of my solo exhibition at the Triton Museum of Art \(November 23 - February 14\). If you live in the San Francisco Bay Area, hope to see you there!

Many thanks to the collectors who have so generously agreed to loan their paintings to the Triton Museum for this occasion. (If 'Outside My Window' is purchased before the museum exhibit, I would be forever grateful if it could be borrowed back.)

Halloween is almost upon us. Hope yours is fun- and candy-filled.

Holly

Quote of the day, from British comedian Karl Pilkington: "That's why I couldn't live in America . . . it's all about living the dream. If you're living the dream, how do you know if you're awake or asleep?"
